FOREWORD

WE PRESENT to you, the Student Body, this the 1946 LATIPAC. The ending of the war has brought us great relief from anxiety, and so we have tried to make this year's LATIPAC express the happiness we have felt. The staff believes that the enjoyment of sports has been an important factor in forgetting the days of war. With this in mind much emphasis has been placed on sports—the State Championship in football and our success in basketball, baseball, and track.

This book tries to record in story and picture, life as we lived in 1945-46. There are pictures of the teachers who have taught us, of the boys and girls who have been classmates, of the activities in which students have participated, of the boys who were outstanding in athletics, of the officers who represented us, and of the superlatives who were selected by the Seniors. We invite you to turn the pages and relive with us this school year.

In Memorian

IN LOVING MEMORY of Thomas Willmott Freeman who passed away December 25, 1945. He was a calm and inspirational leader of the young people who came to him for training and advice. He served our student body unfailingly and guided many boys into the right vocations. We shall always love and revere him as our gentle friend and teacher.

DEDICATION

LEE J. STONE

WHO, AS ATHLETIC COACH and boys' physical education director of Needham Broughton High School has developed to the highest degree those fine qualities of sportsmanship which permit us to receive the rewards of victory loyalty or to accept defeat generously and gracefully. Under his coaching Broughton has won two Eastern Conference championships and one State championship in football.

In whose character is reflected the true spirit of the school; a spirit of fight-to-win, combined with a love of honesty and fairness, which he demonstrated as Dean of Boys for two years.

Who, as a man about the school is known as "Rock" and respected by us all. We, the senior class, offer tribute and dedicate this 1946 LATIPAC.

TODAY as we leave Needham Broughton and our fellow-students, each one of us thinks back over his years of high school life. We remember with pleasure our work and participation in school events. With the grind of lessons came sports and activities given by various student body organizations.

This year at Needham Broughton has been different in many respects. Because we have had a senior year undimmed by the horrors of war, we are thankful. Many veterans have returned to graduate with our class.

As we look into the future, we see some of our boys leaving to enter the armed forces; but many will undertake peacetime occupations. Some of us plan to get jobs; others are going to college.

By combining pleasure and hard work, we have succeeded in making Broughton a finer school. Thus, Alma Mater, the class of 1946 bids you farewell!

The Junior Class began the year with the election of its class officers. Bobby Deyton was elected president; John Senter, vice president; Bobbie Lee Rogers, secretary; Sabra Ives, treasurer; Eddie Clement, Sergeant-at-arms. The class also had an executive committee composed of the class officers and the presidents of the junior homerooms. In addition to the officers, the members of this committee were Dorothy Bray, Pete Gattis, Alvin Jenkins, Jack Stevenson, and Kenneth Winston.

Several members of the class have achieved recognition in the field of sports. John Senter, Jimmy Lesane, Bob Summers, Bobby Deyton, Eugene Ferrell, Jim Streeter, and Jack Stevenson were active members of the football team. Billy Burgess, Tommy Jones, Eugene Ferrell, and Jimmy Lesane were the outstanding junior members of the varsity basketball team.

The Junior Class was proud of its members who were elected to the National Honor Society. They were Jimmy Nicholson, Jimmy Briggs, Calvin Koonce, Bobby Walker, Eunice Floyd, and Alvin Jenkins.

Five members of the Junior Class became charter members of the newly organized journalism club, the "Quill and Scroll." Anne Arendell, Eunice Floyd, Dick Jenrette, Jimmy Nicholson, and Betty Ann Yowell attained this honor. When the dramatics department produced "Ever Since Eve," Otis Moran. Sabra Ives, Norma Wetmore, and L. T. Wadsworth were members of the cast from the Junior Class. Anne Arendell and G. L. Smith were the only juniors who achieved membership in the Golden Masquers, an honorary dramatic society.

Saxy Dowell was the guest speaker at the assembly program conducted by the Junior Class on Friday, March 1.

The junior marshals this year were Annie Taylor, Jack Stevenson, Sabra Ives, and John Senter.

The annual Junior-Senior formal dance was the big event of the year. The little red schoolhouse was used as the theme for the dance with music furnished by Herbert Gupton's orchestra. There was also a floor show given by a group of students.

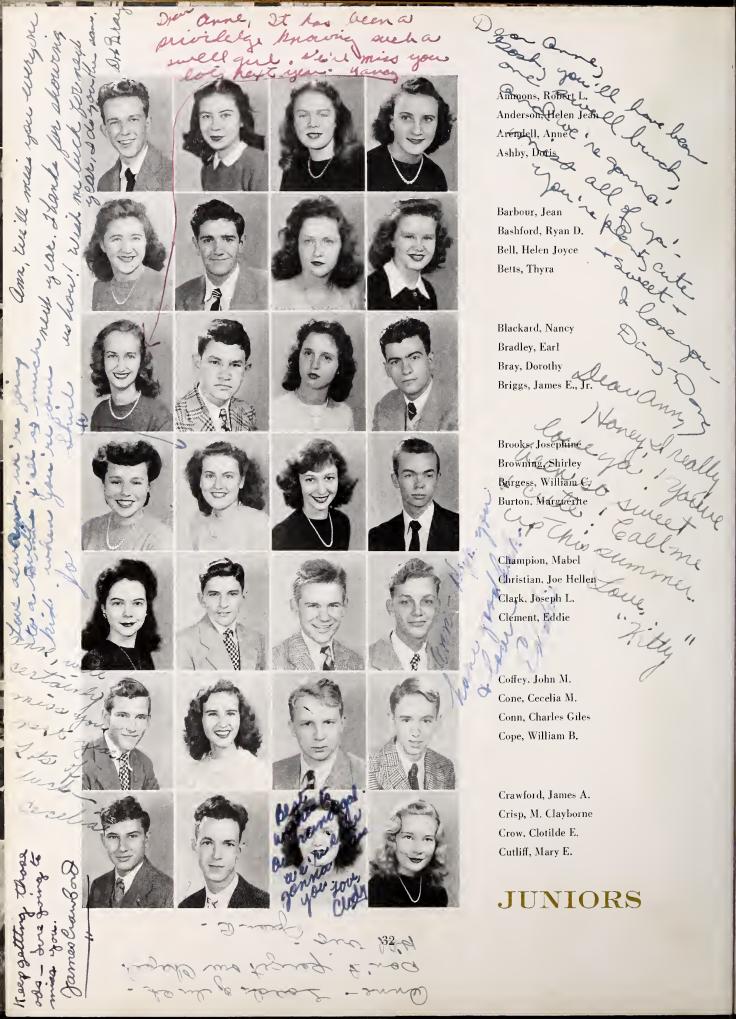

The extra curricular activities of the class ended with a class picnic.

The school year 1945-46 was a very eventful and successful year for this class. With the many leaders and honor students in this class, we hope to make our senior year one of unforgetable accomplishments. Special recognition goes to Miss Cogdell, class adviser, whose guidance and untiring interest have helped the class to achieve its many successes throughout the year.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Calvin Koonce, Vice President; Rex Eatmon, Treasurer; Miss Griffin, Adviser; George Paulson, Secretary; Bob Smith, President.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL with its committees has endeavored to uphold the standards set by groups of former years. It has functioned to be of service whenever possible and to better conditions around the school.

The school was represented at the State Student Council Congress by four delegates on October 11-12 of 1945. They were Buck Pruden, President of the Congress; Bob Smith, Armecia Eure, and Calvin Koonce, who was elected vice president of the Congress for next year.

As a memorial to Broughton boys killed in the war, the council, together with each homeroom, appropriated enough money for a show case.

Officers of the Council are: Bob Smith, President; Calvin Koonce, Vice President: George Paulson, Secretary; Rex Eatmon, Treasurer; and Jack Gordon, Sergeant-at-Arms. The advisers are Miss Hazel Griffin and Mr. C. A. Dandelake.

STUDENT COUNCIL COMMITTEES

SCHOOL STORE. This organization operates on its own funds, and the money that is made goes to the council. The store supplies students with necessary school materials. Rex Eatmon, treasurer of the council, is the manager.

AUDIO-VISUAL COMMITTEE. This committee purchased educational films for classroom purposes with the profits from the full length movies given in school. Gene Neal headed the group.

CHAPEL. Led by Buck Pruden, this committee planned all chapel programs for the year. The programs were entertaining as well as educational.

PUBLICITY. Every week this committee wrote articles about events in school for the Raleigh Times and News and Observer. La Verne Harris was chairman.

SOCIAL. At the beginning of the year this group had a tea for new teachers and a tea for new students. Two football dances and a Christmas dance were given.

ELECTIONS. The duties of this committee are to carry on the election of class officers, student council officers, and marshals. Jack Gordon, sergeant-at-arms of the council, was chairman.

GROUNDS. Under the leadership of Frances Woodall, this group sponsored cleanup campaigns, made equipment for picking up paper, and planted trees in the spring in honor of the war dead.

POINTS. The chairman of this committee was Frances Chase. It did splendid work in checking the points of both the senior and junior classes.

CITIZENSHIP. Headed by Anne Grinnells, the committee reprinted handbooks for the school and explained the constitution to the underclassmen.

LOST AND FOUND. Open four days a week in the mornings, this committee returned lost articles to students. The group was led by Jimmy Lineberger.

HOUSE. This committee sponsored a Christmas decorating campaign and one at Easter. Signs for the stairs were made by the group, headed by Robert Ammons.

SPORTS. The purpose of this committee was to promote sports in the school. This year there were football sponsors at several games. A tennis club was formed for all interested students. Led by Virginia Anderson and Billy Baise, the group sold football tickets before every game.

CALENDAR. Led by Carl James, the calendar committee made posters and designs for the whole school.

STAGE CREW. This group handled the technical part of the chapel programs presented. The chairman was Gene Neal.

STANDARDS. This committee was formerly the War Effort Committee. The co-chairmen, Armecia Eure and Calvin Koonce, have done splendid work this year with the auction sale held November 6. At Christmas, boxes were sent for soldiers at Camp Butner. This group has kept the service flag up to date. It also started a memorial shelf in the library for Broughton boys killed during the war.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY consists of juniors and seniors who have excelled in the four standards of character, leadership, service, and scholarship. They are selected by the votes of faculty members and students in the honor society.

This year the members took turns keeping a study hall before school. They also made short talks to the eighth and ninth grades encouraging the students to aspire to the four-fold standards of the society.

At the fall tapping ceremony, five seniors and five juniors were taken into the society. At the spring ceremony two seniors and two juniors were tapped.

The adviser of the chapter is Mrs. W. J. Hosley.

NEEDHAM BROUGHTON BAND

THE BAND, under the direction of Millard Burt, took part in many activities during the school year. The members traveled to practically all the out of town football games and played at all the home games.

Several of the band members were participants in the All-State Band which performed in Greenville in March. Only the most outstanding players were allowed to play in this concert.

There was a concert given at the Memorial Auditorium to raise money for new uniforms in the latter part of March. This project was supported by the Raleigh Junior Chamber of Comerce and the students of the two high schools.

Four Broughton band members were designated to participate in the annual North Carolina State Music Festival which was held in Greensboro in April. The participants were as follows: Clay Crisp, French horn; Neal O'Neal, cornet; Tommy Matthews, 'cello; Woodson Lynn, snare drum.

The Senior girl Reserve Club, composed of eleventh and twelfth grade girls, had the largest enrollment in its history. Being a part of the Y.W.C.A. it shares in the big purpose of that organization. The symbol of the club is a blue triangle within a circle. The triangle represents the ideal of three-fold development of mind, body, and spirit. The circle stands for the worldwide interests and connections of the Girl Reserves.

SINCE MAINTAINING interest in American history was the purpose of this club, meetings were held every other Friday. Programs were composed of travel talks, quizzes, and "Truth or Consequences." One of the featured speakers was Mrs. Lillian Parker Wallace, a teacher at Meredith College. Mrs. Wallace spoke on the formation of the United Nations Organization. Another speaker was a representative of the F.B.I. On these and on other special occasions the members were served refreshments.

A constitution was drawn up by a group of appointed members. This constitution stated the purpose of the club, the duties of the officers, and the regulations concerning collection of dues.

We hope that the success of our club will be continued in future American history clubs.

LATIN

THE LATIN CLUBS met once every two weeks during the class periods to study the social life, the customs, and habits of the Roman people. The programs were made more interesting through the use of Latin songs, plays, talks, and contests. The Club motto is: Possunt quia posse videntur.

THE LIBRARY

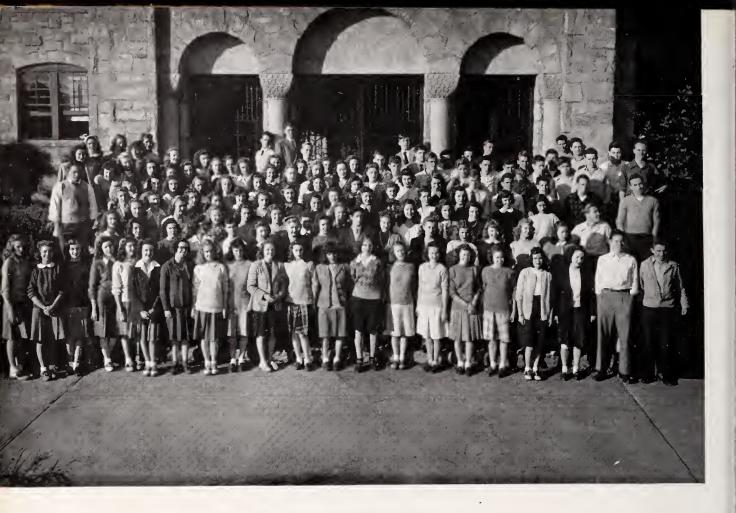

THE LIBRARY STAFF was composed of Norma Pitts, president; Eleanor Nock, vice president; Anna Slack, secretary; Nell Rankin, treasurer; Earl Bradley, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Nancy Burge, librarian; Tommy Jones, Ethel Pearce, Jannie Smith, Jean Kistler, Betty Lou Hamilton. Edith King, Gwen McGhee, Frances McConnell, Colene House, Bill Galt, Julian Harris, Gladys Green, Hazel Stratton, Ina Ruth Woodruff, and Vivian Truelove. Dick Mitchell and Speedy Massenburg joined the staff during the spring semester.

Library assistants look after details of library management. They keep the circulation desk before, during, and after school, charging books, collecting overdues, writing and delivering notices about reserve and overdue books, and making out bills and receipts.

During the year the staff entertained the faculty and parents of the members of the Library Club at a Book Week tea where part of the 400 new books were on display. In the spring, they helped with the preparation for the biennial meeting of the North Carolina Library Association.

LIVILE THEATER

THIS YEAR has been an especially fortunate one for the Broughton Little Theater because of the increased membership of the club. One hundred and forty junior and senior members of the club have enjoyed a series of interesting programs of one-act plays, initiation skits, and make-up demonstrations, in addition to several interesting speakers from the Raleigh Little Theater.

A group of Little Theater members presented an original skit entitled "It Could Happen To You" to the Parent-Teacher Association at an early fall meeting.

"Ever Since Eve" a three-act comedy by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements, was presented by the Little Theater on December 7 to a packed house.

"Western Night" was presented by this organization in the Easten North Carolina Drama Festival at Goldsboro, March 22 and 23.

The year's activity of the club was concluded by a spring banquet.

THE 1946 LATIPAC staff was divided into two groups—the editorial staff and the business staff. The editorial staff consisted of Dot Wyatt, editorin-chief; Bob Smith, sports editor; Sara Holland, Doris McKinney, and Alice Spencer, who wrote the characteristics of the seniors; Edith Winslow, Bobby Ann Powell, Betty Jean Caveness, Anna Slack, Nell Rankin, Kathleen Perry, Bettye Harris, Nurry Ann Nixon, and Virginia Lynch, reports; and Mrs. Judson M. Kneece, adviser. Buck Pruden, business manager, with Miss Laura Helen Paschal to help him as adviser, took care of the business matters. Emma Martin, advertising manager, was in charge of the important job of soliciting for advertisements.

HI-TIMES

FOR THE FIRST time since 1942 the campus newspaper, The Hi-Times, appeared eight times this year in all its pre-war glory. Perhaps it would not be bragging to say that there were even a few added features: "Among the 1000," "Stop, Look, and Listen," "Eure Fashions," and "Personality Plus," to name a few.

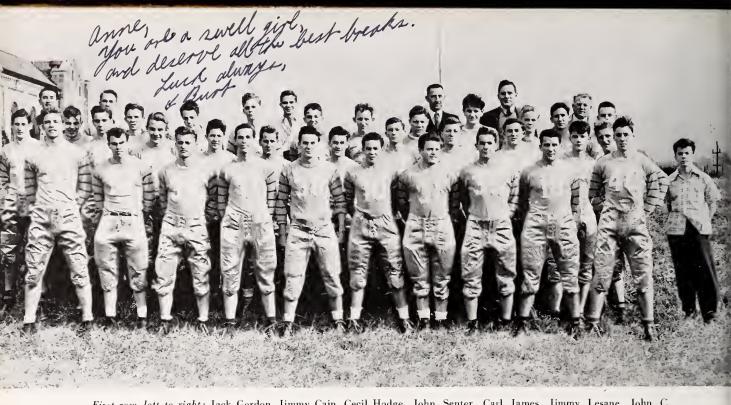

Martha Hester, editor, and Jimmy Nicholson, business manager, and Bob Smith, sports editor, headed a staff of about forty-eight.

High lights of the year were the Hi-Times chapel program in September which the students rewarded by going all out in the subscription campaign; affiliation with "Quill and Scroll," C.S.P.A. and N.S.P.A.; comments by the critics describing the paper as "having a personality of its own, and definitely reflecting the spirit of the school"; and lavish praise heaped on "Eure Fashions."

Climax of the year for about eight members of the staff was the trip to the National Press Association convention at Columbia University, New York.

FOOTBALL

THE 1945 FOOTBALL season saw the Raleigh Caps bring home undisputed possession of the North Carolina State Class A title for the first time since 1935. This year's team was one of the most successful in years, scoring a total of 224 points to its opponents' 65.

The Caps suffered only one defeat during the entire campaign. The lone setback came at the hands of Greensboro, a Western Conference team. in the opening game of the season, played in a driving rain. The final score was 13-7, with Cain scoring Raleigh's only touchdown.

The next week the locals returned home to begin their long string of victories. The Durham Bulls were the first victims of the Caps' power. Raleigh defeated its old rivals 12-0, at Devereaux Meadow. Lesane and Pearson scored Raleigh's touchdowns.

Following this, Wilson fell before the Capital city boys might, 18-7. This was the first game of the season in which Captain Walton Ferrell participated, and he came back in grand style, leading the attack with two touchdowns. Lesane added the third tally. James, Gordon, and Baise paced the linemen.

A week later, playing at Riddick Stadium before 7,000 fans, the Caps stopped the Wilmington Wildcats, 13-0. Again it was Ferrell and Baise who led the way.

Journeying to Goldsboro, the locals hit mid-season form by overwhelming the Earthquakes, 26-6. Senter and Cain sparked the Caps in this triumph.

Still on the road, the locals traveled to Asheville, where they crushed the Maroons, 24-0, to gain revenge for a defeat suffered during the preceding season. Ferrell raced 70 yards on the opening play of the game. The Caps rolled up 16 first downs to Asheville's 6, and gained 340 yards on the ground. Ferrell, Senter, and Lesane led the Caps against the Maroons.

The next week Raleigh met some unexpected opposition from the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets, and emerged with a 19-13 decision. The locals had a 19-0 lead going into the fourth quarter; but the Jackets unleashed an amazing passing attack, which resulted in two touchdowns. Lesane scored two of the Caps touchdowns, with Ussery making the other.

Raleigh really romped over Fayetteville in the next game, played at Riddick Stadium. The locals rolled up a 38-14 score. Ferrell and Lesane led the Caps' scoring, each going over for two touchdowns. Eatman and Senter accounted for the other two. Cain was the leading ground gainer for Raleigh, repeatedly getting away for long jaunts.

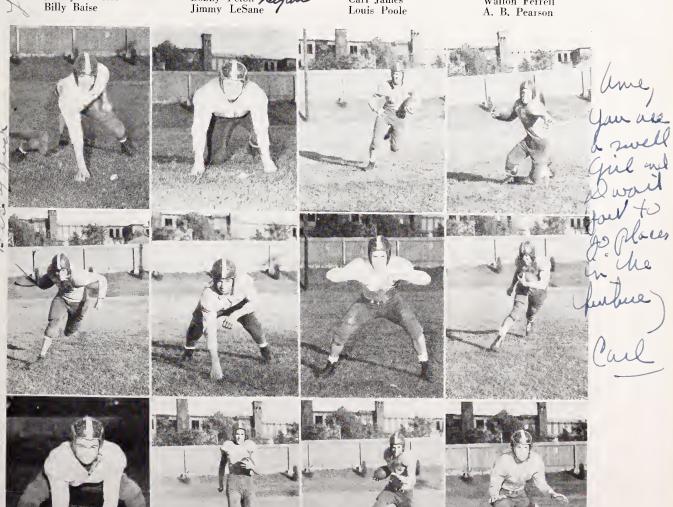

The next week, at Rocky Mount, Raleigh clinched the Eastern Conference title by completely outclassing the Blackbirds, 39-6. The Caps spotted Rocky Mount a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, but came roaring back to win easily. It was difficult to pick out the individual stars of this game. Lesane, Ferrell, Senter, Cain, and Lloyd scored Raleigh's touchdowns, Lesane accounting for two. Hodge and James led the linemen, the latter kicking three points after touchdowns.

Thus Raleigh had won the Eastern crown, and the next game was at High Point for the State championship. The Caps entered the game as slight favorites, and they proved their superiority by downing the Bisons, 28-6. The locals unleashed a powerful ground attack which paid off with a score the very first time they got their hands on the ball. High Point came back in the second quarter to score its only touchdown, and to cut the Caps' lead to one point at the half. Raleigh completely dominated play in the second half, however, scoring twice in the third period and adding another tally in the fourth. Ferrell scored two of Raleigh's four touchdowns, and Lesane and Senter added the others. James booted four perfect placements for the extra points. Gordon, Baise, and James led the linemen.

Individual scoring honors for the season went to Jimmy Lesane, tailback, who scored 12 touchdowns for 72 points. Walton Ferrell, fullback, was close behind with 66 points, and John Senter, halfback, collected 36 points.

Five Raleigh players were honored with All-State selections—two of whom made the first team and three the second squad. The boys chosen for the first string were Jack Gordon, tackle, and Walton Ferrell, fullback. Hodge, end, Carl James, guard, and Billy Baise, center, were named to the second team.

Walton Ferrell was selected on the All-Southern high school team. He was termed by Jake Wade of the Charlotte Observer as "the best high school player in the state."

Ferrell and Baise were invited to play in the annual Shrine Bowl game in Charlotte.

Carl James, guard, was elected by his teammates as the outstanding member of the squad. John Senter and Jimmy Lesane was elected cocaptains of the 1946 team.

Much of the credit for the team's success goes to Coach Lee Stone and his capable assistants, "Buster" Dandelake and W. F. Shealy. This marks the second time in the three years since Stone has been head coach at Raleigh that the locals have won the Eastern Conference championship.

BASEBALL

AS THE 1946 EDITION of the LATIPAC goes to press, the Raleigh High School baseball team is buckling down to practice in preparation for the season of America's No. 1 sport.

Under the direction of Coach W. F. Shealy, the 1945 team ended the season in third place in conference standings. This year, under the same mentor, the team is expecting one of its most successful seasons in years. Ten lettermen are returning, in addition to numerous other candidates.

Mack Campbell, who did not play last season because of a sore arm, is back and probably will bear the brunt of the pitching assignments. Mack's fireball slants have earned him a widespread reputation. He will be ably assisted by Bobby Dukc and James Edwards.

To Johnny Williams, an infielder last season, will go the catching duties. The infield is filled by returning veterans of last year's campaign. At first base will be Walton Ferrell; Sonny Ussery probably will get the nod at second. Shortstop will be occupied by Bob Bennett, a pitcher on the 1945 squad. John Senter will be at third to complete the infield.

The outfield has the biggest gaps. Charles Edwards will probably hold down one of the positions, while the other two are left open to the many candidates.

The Caps have a 16 game schedule, besides several practice engagements which will be played. The present schedule is as follows: March 22. Sanford-here March 26. Warrenton-there March 29. Sanford-there

TRACK

DURING RECENT years the sport that has been making rapid progress is track. Raleigh fans had not paid much attention to track until the last few years, but now that sport is holding its own against other athletics.

One reason for this increased interest in track is the fact that last year Raleigh won the North Carolina State Class A Championship, which means that the Caps will be defending the title this season. The locals won the State title by virtue of their triumph in the State meet in Chapel Hill last year.

Gonc are such star performers as Laddie Terrell, B. K. Grow, and Dick Taylor; but this year's team can boast of equally good trackmen in Carl James, Jimmy Cain, and Ernest Phillips. Other members of the regular team are Sam Cothran, A. B. Pearson, and Jimmy Lesane, plus a few who report at various times.

The Caps' first engagement of the current season was in the invitational meet at Chapel Hill in February. Although Raleigh did not place in the sectional events, it did win the relay event for North Carolina high schools.

Aside from winning the State title last year, Raleigh also triumphed over Durham and Greenville in a tri-

AT THE OUTSET of the basketball season, Coach Stone had the problem of lack of experience on the quint. Only one member, Sam Cothran, was a regular on the 1945 team. A. B. Pearson and Billy Baise had seen a little service as reserves. Jimmy Crosby, Eugene Ferrell, and Billy Burgess had played on the junior varsity, while Jimmy Lesane was playing his first year.

This lack of experience told on the Broughton five; the locals won only 4 games while losing 10. The team did fairly well, however, considering the lack of experience and height.

Captain Sam Cothran led the Caps in scoring with 107 points, while Jimmy Crosby garnered

ENTER SUB-FRESHMEN GRADUATE 1941 1946

With wide-eyes and open mouths, the class of '46 entered Broughton as Sub-freshmen in September 1941. There is probably no other class that has had so much to happen during its years of high school. The first activity in which we participated was the tea given by the Student Council. Then came Pearl Harbor. Everyone started thinking about doing things for the war effort. The first step was the buying of War Bonds and Stamps in the front hall. We took care of our shoes, used only one lump of sugar, squeezed tooth-paste tubes a little harder, and observed "Meatless Thesdays." Students were called down for "Knittin' for Britain" in chapel. Everyone sang "Remember Pearl Harbor," "One Dozen Roses," "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," and "In Der Fuehrer's Face." The weather became a military secret instead of a topic at the dinner table. Then at the end of the school year we discovered that we were the last eighth grade group to have the privilege of changing classes.

Our second year as high school students opened with even more vigorous campaigns than in the preceding year. Many clubs were abolished, and in place of them the Victory Corps was organized. The girls took first aid courses and learned to "plaster" each other, while the boys got "stuck up" making model airplanes for the armed forces. The more energetic students started Victory Gardens, but not many of them were finished. There were scrap drives and paper drives, and books were donated for the servicemen. Many of us got up at the break of dawn to go to the country to pick cotton because of the lahor shortage. We slaved all day and earned enough to get in a movie. We launched some very successful jeep campaigns. The service flag was made in honor of the boys in service. About this time Churchill and Roosevelt were making history at Casablanca and the movie "Casablanca" was shown. We all had our share of teachers in the ninth grade. New teachers came and old ones left. They must have been frightened by the chains and zoot suits the boys wore, or the glare from the peroxided heads must have been too great. Lee Stone joined the coaching staff at the beginning of the year and seemed to endure the "strain," but at the end of the year Raymond Gregson resigned. We never could understand whether we caused him to take the new position or not.

Because of the paper shortage, the Hi-Times was discontinued, and in its place the War Times was printed. It furnished us the news, but it didn't take the place of the Hi-Times. A Bond auction was held in the auditorium at which time $3,000 in Bonds was spent for a pair of nylon hose alone. We had several good movies in the tenth grade—"The Biscuit Eater." "Syncopation," and "Gunga Din." Mr. Helms stopped one of the movies in the middle because he didn't approve of our conduct. Just before that occurrence, one teacher commented that the student body was the "most orderly and helpful that has been present in some time." Jack Rank presented "Macbeth" at Broughton for the first time. We had several "barber shop quartets" and other "tets" singing "Behind the Swinging Doors." That was about the time our parents were going around singing "Mairzy Doats and Dozy Doats and Liddle Lamzy Divy." The first gold stars were put on the service flag. Seeing them brought the war even closer to us.

The hardest thing we had to take in the eleventh grade was the fact that the football team was disqualified from the championship game hecause of an ineligible player. We saw D-day come and pass, V-E day come and pass, and Frank Sinatra come and the girls "pass." Roosevelt's death was a great blow to us. We listened to the radio the day after his death and heard speeches by Cherry and, from London, by Churchill and King George. Chapel was held that day, at which time the Student Council president, Ivan Armstrong, gave a speech which touched everyone's heart. After the first semester the Hi-Times was established in a miniature fashion. We decorated for the Junior-Senior in April. Everything was plantation style—the columns, the trees with old fashioned swings and moss, rose gardens, honey-suckle, and weeping willow trees. Practically everyone either read the book or saw the picture, "A Tree Grows In Brooklyn." The books by Ernie Pyle were also very popular, especially after he was killed by a Jap sniper. During the summer the war with Japan ended, and with it gas rationing.

Our Senior year has been one of many events. There have heen elections, collections, strikes, demonstrations, and acts of insubordination. The class officers were elected at the beginning of the year. Then came the election of the Editor and Business Manager of the Latipac, and last of all the election of the superlatives. It seemed that everywhere we turned someone was holding out his hand for money—and he got it. The day after Thanksgiving holidays the furnace broke down, and school was dismissed after the second period. Everyone was so disappointed that they just wouldn't go home; so they went up town. The football team captured the State Championship from High Point this year. The team and the band played vigorously all season. Millard Burt had returned from service to direct the hand. Tire rationing ended; and if we could get new tires, we no longer feared having to "get out and get under." Girls wore "blue jeans" to classes during the time the Dramatics Department was getting a "clean sweep." "There's A Tear In My Beer" became popular with us, just as strikes became popular with coal miners and steel workers. Then we took up the "strike" against the cafeteria and other policies of the school. The papers called it an act of insubordination. T. W. Freeman, a friend to many of us, died during the Christmas holidays. He had retired the previous summer. The Hi-Y presented the school with a plaque with the names of the hoys killed in service on it. We have lived through four years of war, and now

"We are living we are dwelling
In a grand and awful time,
In an age on ages telling
To be living is sublime."

A KILOWATT HOUR?

That's Easy!

A kilowatt hour is really not difficult to understand. Electricity is meosured in units of pressure (volts) and in units of current flow (amperes). Multiply these two together and you have a unit of power, the watt. The wott is o relatively small unit and it is customory to use 1,000 wotts, or o kilowatt os o practical base of measurement of electricity. A KILOWATT HOUR represents the use of one kilowott (1,000 wotts) for one hour. It represents energy equivalent to one and one third horsepower. It is the unit of measurement used in your electric bill, and the residential customers of the Corolina Power & Light Compony pay an average of two and seven-tenths cents for each kilowott hour of electricity used.
